Naples-based Stock Residences topped off The Ritz-Carlton Residences, Naples, as the two tallest buildings of the five-building North Naples development — the Tower Residences — reached their peak of 12 stories each. It follows the completion of vertical construction of the Bay Residences — a pair of mid-rise buildings within the 6-acre enclave. With the external structures of The Residences' four main buildings complete, company officials said the project is steadily on track toward receiving its temporary certificate of occupancy by early 2026, with move-ins to follow thereafter. Flanked by Vanderbilt Beach and the Gulf to the west and Vanderbilt Lagoon to the north, The Ritz-Carlton Residences, Naples, features 128 estate-like residences, including penthouses and grand penthouses, starting at 3,000 square feet. Prices for the three-, four- and five-bedroom retreats start at $5.2 million.
